

Mr. Taoufik BACCAR, Governor of the Central Bank of Tunisia (BCT) presided over on Wednesday 8 December 2010 in the Headquarters of the BCT, a ceremony to collect the banking sector donation to the national solidarity fund (FSN).

He underlined that this ceremony falls in the framework of celebrating the national day of solidarity and comes to consecrate the close-knit dimension that President Zine El Abidine BEN ALI set as a fundamental principle in the global development approach committed by Tunisia the Change.

In this same context, Mr. BACCAR pointed out that solidarity has become, as of the Change, a deep-seated culture among Tunisians. He focused on President Zine El Abidine BEN ALI willingness to set mutual aid and solidarity values among young generations and to develop a solidarity mechanism.

He stressed the role of solidarity in enhancing the development process, noting that the United Nations' general Assembly adoption of the Head of the State proposal to create a world solidarity fund, confirms clearly success of the Tunisian experience in this area.
